

Inside Personal Growth

Awakening the Wisdom Within

If you're an author, speaker or workshop facilitator in the field of personal growth, we at Inside Personal Growth understand the importance of getting your message to properly-targeted audiences.

We are dedicated to assisting you in achieving exceptional results with your promotional campaigns, whether they involve coordinating and planning an offline event or an online webinar.

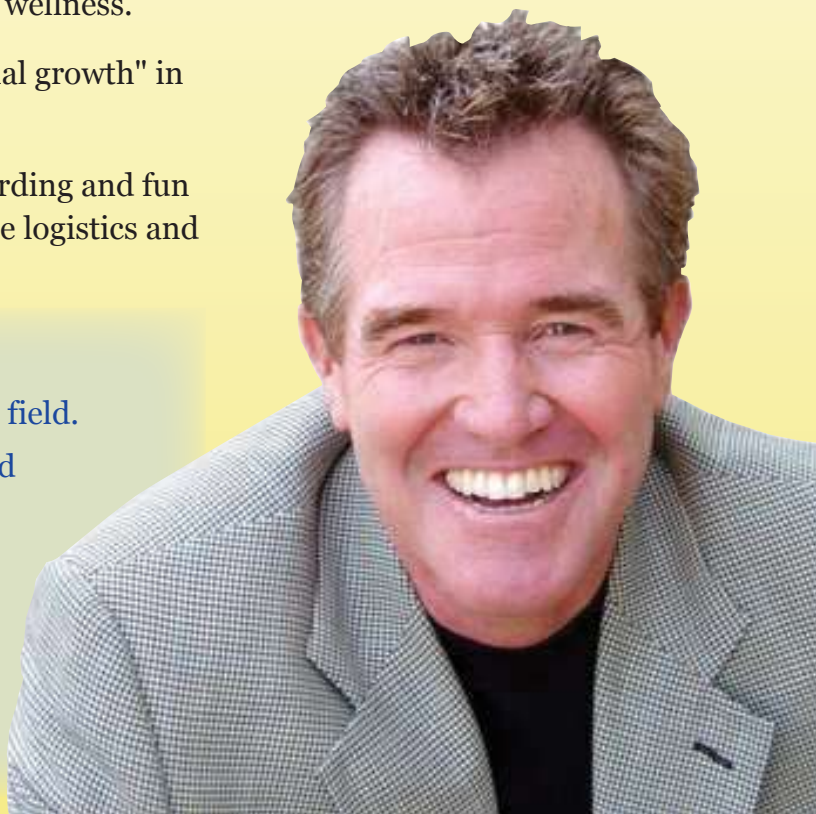

Our online podcast interview show started over two years ago, and has grown to become the top in the industry in the genres of personal growth, spirituality and health and wellness.

We are one of highest ranking sites for "personal growth" in the Google search engine.

Our goal is to make your job easier, more rewarding and fun without all of the heavy lifting that goes into the logistics and planning of both online and offline events.

“Greg Voisen is one of the best interviewers in the field. He has a genius for asking the right questions and going to the heart of the subject. I've been on hundreds of shows, from Oprah to the local newscast, and Greg's interview with me stands out as one of the very best.
